Weekly Report

Directorate of Administration

- The National Archives inadvertently declassified and released a Secret document to an FOIA requester without prior CIA coordination. The document, which was located in a Department of State file, is now being reviewed by the DO to determine whether the information warrants classification.
- OP is establishing in the Ames Building a pool where uncleared clerical applicants will be stationed pending the completion of security background investigations. The pool will provide an opportunity for the clericals to hone their skills and will facilitate their assignment after security investigations are completed.
- OP also is prepared to bring on board as full-time contract employees applicants for officer-technical positions who are unemployed and awaiting final clearance, and who might otherwise be forced by financial need to accept another job. They will remain at home, working on unclassified but meaningful research projects for Agency offices until fully cleared.

Directorate of Intelligence

- ACIS completed a report on U.S. tactics for ASAT talks in Vienna for the NSC.
- ALA, ACIS, NESA, OGI, and SOVA prepared memos for Robert McFarlane to use in his briefing of Walter Mondale.

- SOVA prepared a memo for National Security Adviser McFarlane on the likely Soviet reaction to a U.S. statement on Afghan-Pakistan border incidents.

National Intelligence Council - See tab.

Office of General Counsel

- OGC has been working with the Office of Security to prepare a regulation authorizing searches of the workspace of employees who are suspected of the intentional unauthorized disclosure of classified information or involvement in clandestine intelligence activities on behalf of a foreign power.
- The Department of Justice has drafted an MOU which would set up a formal mechanism whereby high-level Justice Department approval could be obtained for Agency activities that appear to conflict with federal criminal statutes. The MOU would provide for an optional mechanism whereby, in those cases in which senior Agency management are concerned that a proposed activity might raise a serious question of compliance with federal criminal law, we could obtain a formal Justice opinion that it will not prosecute employees involved in the activity.

Office of Inspector General

- Our final inspection report of the Foreign Networks Division, Office of Communications/DA has been forwarded to the DCI via the Executive Director. The DDA has asked for an extension with regard to his comments on our draft inspection of EOD Processing. We will not receive DDA input now until the third week in September.

- Our current inspection cycle which includes EUR/DO, DND/OC, SE/DO, CPAS/DI, and ORD/DS&T is progressing on schedule. No real significant problems have been surfaced to date in any of these inspections.

f. The National Archives and Records Service (NARS) reported to the Office of Information Services that a Secret document containing information quoted from CIA reporting had been inadvertently declassified and shown to an FOIA requester without prior CIA coordination. The document, which was located in a Department of State file, is now being reviewed by the Directorate of Operations to determine whether the disclosed information warrants classification. The file also included a CIA document that was removed by NARS for safekeeping; the remaining material contained no information still classified from a CIA point of view.

i. The Office of Employment/OP, in cooperation with the Office of Logistics and the Office of Security, is establishing in the Ames Building a pool where uncleared clerical applicants will be stationed pending the completion of security background investigations. The pool will provide an opportunity for the clericals to hone their skills as well as escalate clerical availability after security investigations are completed.

j. The Office of Personnel (OP) is prepared to bring on board as full-time contract employees those applicants for officer-technical positions who are unemployed and awaiting final clearance, and who might otherwise be forced by financial need to accept another job. These individuals will not be "pooled" in Washington but will remain at home, working on unclassified but meaningful research projects for Agency offices. When fully cleared, these "stand-bys" will be converted at once to staff employees. OP will manage this program in close collaboration with the hiring components.

k. The Office of Personnel has been advised by the Department of State (DoS) Passport Office that there will be a delay in obtaining visas because of a shortage of DoS couriers who were reduced in number from two to one. It is anticipated that this shortage will exist for the next six weeks.

° At the request of the U.S. Ambassador in Budapest, FBIS surveyed Hungarian media for evidence that Hungarian television is more freewheeling than other Hungarian media in its treatment of East-West issues. While the survey turned up no consistent pattern of basic differences in themes among the media, FBIS analysts noted a few occasions on which Hungarian TV had provided viewers with a notably balanced picture of U.S. and Soviet bloc views on such issues as INF.
